

I want to go to high school

In Japanese society, it is advantageous to graduate from high school for future employment. But it takes many times more effort than children raised in Japan. We introduce information necessary for foreign children to go high school in Japan. I hope you will do your best.

■ Students eligible to take the Japanese high school entrance exam

1. Those who have been educated for 9 years in their home country and have a certificate of completion, etc.
2. Those who came to Japan under the age of 15 and graduated from a Japanese junior high school
3. Those who have taken and passed the Junior High School Graduation Certification Test in Japan

*The “Junior High School Graduation Certification Test” is a test of what they study in a Japanese junior high school.

■ Students who are not eligible for high school entrance exams

There are three ways for students who are not eligible to take the Japanese high school exam to take the exam.

1. The student should enter a junior high school in Japan. If the school, the person in question, and family agree, admission is possible even if the person is 15 years or older. There are no special classes in Japanese after enrollment.
2. The student should enter a junior high school at night and obtain a junior high school graduation certificate.
* There are 1 night-junior high school in Saitama Prefecture (Kawaguchi City) and 8 in Tokyo.
3. Take classes online for shortfalls in your home country and receive a certificate of completion of education for 9 years in your home country.

■ High School Entrance Examination [Take the same entrance exam as Japanese students]

1. There is a special quota for foreign students at public high schools. This course is intended for students who can study basic in Japanese. However, students who come to Japan within 3 years have only two subjects in English and mathematics, and interviews.
2. Some private high schools have a system that accepts students who are proficient in languages overseas. * Be sure to check if there is Japanese language support.
3. Night high schools accept students even if they do not have Japanese language skills but classes are conducted in Japanese.
4. In some cases students with some level of Japanese and learning ability are able to enter correspondence high school.

■ Where to study if you cannot enter high school

1. Learning support class sponsored by NPO
*Ex: FICEC and many others (free)
2. Japanese language school to study only Japanese (charged)
3. Free school to support high school (charged)

Many children continue to study at FICEC, enter high school, and go on to college. We support your dreams. Don't give up on your dreams!

Consultations on children's education are accepted at the municipality where you live. FICEC supports as many children as possible to go on to junior high school and high school. (049-256-4290)

FICEC
Life Consultation

FICEC also accepts life consultations on Saturdays and Sundays
From Monday to Saturday 10:00 to 16:00
Sunday 13:00 to 16:00

When I applied for an extension of my visa period of stay, I was surprised to hear from an immigration official saying, “You are divorced and you have lost your status of residence”. It seems that my Japanese husband filed a divorce report while my father died suddenly and returned to my home country. What should I do?

If the other party submits a divorce report to the government office even though you do not agree to divorce, and the family register at the government office accepts the notification, a divorce by consultation is formally established.

If you do not agree to the conclusion of the divorce, you should apply to the family court for mediation to confirm the invalidity of the divorce.

If a divorce report is filed without permission, it will take a lot of time and effort to correct it. If you are worried about a divorce report being submitted without your permission, it is safe to submit a “Notice of Refusal of Divorce Report” to the government office.

I have lived in Japan for 10 years with overstay. I’m afraid of COVID-19, so I’d like to get a vaccine. What should I do?

You should have vaccination ticket to get the vaccination. In some municipalities, you can receive the vaccination ticket if you can prove that you live in the municipality, such as electricity bills and water bill receipts. Please ask your contact window regarding COVID19 (health center or city hall).

Temporary special benefit of 100,000 yen for households exempt from residence tax
“Households eligible for payment”

Resident-tax exempt household in 2021 fiscal year

Households with sudden changes in household budget
Households exempt from residence tax because income is reduced due to

Application documents will be mailed from the city.

Please check the contents and reply to the municipality.

Application is necessary.
Fill out the application form, prepare documents to prove income, etc. and submit them to the municipality.

Contact

- Please contact to each city or town hall
- Call center for temporary special benefit (Tel. 0120 - 526 - 145)
- FICEC also accepts consultations (Tel. 049-269-6450)

In Fujimi-shi, you can now have online life consultation.

Make an advance reservation call to Fujimi city hall.

Register your email address from the city homepage.

Consult on the promised date and time.

※ For those who live or work in Fujimi-shi.

“Drawing Contest” Now looking for works

At the civic activity exhibition held at the Fujimino City Office Gallery, drawings of children studying at FICEC and writings of Japanese language class learners are exhibited. Children’s drawings are now recruited. There are gold awards, silver awards, incentive awards, and participation awards for all.

- Contact: FICEC 049-256-4290